DEFINITIONS

A. “Person” or “individual” will mean a natural person, firm, proprietorship, association, partnership, corporation, trust or any other type of organization or entity, including any federal, state, county or municipal agency or other governmental subdivision, whether domestic or foreign, and any officers, directors, employees or representatives thereof.

B. When referring to a person, “to identify” means to give, to the extent known, the person’s full name and present or last known address, and when referring to a natural person, additionally the present or last known place of employment. Once a person has been identified in accordance with this subparagraph, only the name of that person need be listed in response to subsequent discovery requesting the identification of that person.

C. “Entity” or “entities” will mean a firm, proprietorship, association, partnership, corporation, trust, or any other type of organization or entity, including any federal, state, county or municipal agency or other governmental subdivision, whether domestic or foreign.

D. As used herein, the terms “document” and “record,” whether used in the singular or plural, include, without limitation, the originals and copies of any document, record or other material, in the broadest sense permissible under applicable laws and rules of court, and will include, without limitation, the originals and copies of books, records, financial statements, computer records, emails, letters, correspondence, telegrams, notes, memoranda, calculations, diaries, work sheets and drafts, advertisements, charts, bank-account statements, bank-account receipts for deposits and withdrawals, canceled checks (front and back), brokerage-account statements, monthly, quarterly and year-end statements, memoranda of personal and telephonic conversations, inter-office and intra-office memoranda, call reports, agreements and all preliminary drafts of such agreements, audio and video tapes, films, computer programs or data, computer disks, and hard copy printouts from them, sketches, drawings and printed or photostatic copies thereof to the extent that same are within the your possession, custody or control, and which are either known to exist or may be located or discovered by the exercise of reasonably diligent efforts.

E. When referring to documents, “to identify” means to give, to the extent known, the (i) type of document; (ii) general subject matter; (iii) date of the document; and (iv) author(s), address(es) and recipient(s).

F. The term “agreement” means any document or oral understanding that constitutes or purports to be, in whole or in part, a contract, license, lease, or custom, and includes all amendments, modifications, interpretations, and drafts thereof, whether or not executed, and any exercise of an option or other rights embodied therein.

G. The term “draft” shall mean any earlier, preliminary, preparatory or inactive version of all or part of a document, whether or not such document was superseded by a draft and whether or not the terms of the draft are the same or different from the terms of the final document.

H. The term “communication” is used in the broadest sense possible and includes the transmittal of information in any form for statements, facts, ideas, inquiries or otherwise, from one person to another, whether made orally or in writing, electronically transmitted or on paper by mail, by telephone, in a document, at a meeting or otherwise.

I. “You” or “your” means the party to this litigation upon whom this demand is served, his/her agents, partners, representatives, attorneys, accountants and all other persons and/or entities acting within or under his/her control and any of his/her officers, directors, employees, principals, or supporting organizations thereof.

J. The term “parties” shall mean “Plaintiff” and “Defendant” as well as a party’s full or abbreviated name or a pronoun referring to a party and, where applicable as an entity, its officers, directors, employees, partners, corporate parent, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors or successors. This definition is not intended to impose a discovery obligation on any person who is not a party to the litigation.

K. The term “possession, custody or control” includes, without limitation, possession, custody or control of the recipient of this demand and any person or entity acting or purporting to act on behalf of him or her, whether as agent, officer, director, accountant, employee, attorney, sponsor, spokesman or otherwise.

L. The term “all” shall also be construed to mean “any” and the term “any” shall also be construed to mean “all”.

M. The term “each” shall also be construed to mean “every” and the term “every” shall also be construed to mean “each”.

N. The words “and” and “or” shall be construed conjunctively or disjunctively, as is necessary to bring within the scope of the request all responses that might otherwise be outside of its scope.

O. Number: The use of singular shall include the plural, and vice versa, and the use of the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter form, and vice versa, as the context requires.

P. “Relating to” will mean and include concerning, referring to, mentioning, reflecting, regarding, revealing, relative to, pertaining to, evidencing, involving, describing, discussing, responding to, supporting, contradicting, constituting (in whole or part), comprising or in any way relevant to, and/or being a draft, copy or summary of (in whole or part).

Q. To the extent that the documents sought by any item herein can be furnished by reference to any other request for documentation expressed herein, such practice will be acceptable to the party who serves this demand. However, separate responses should be accorded to each item of documentation requested herein.

R. If a claim of privilege is asserted in objection to production of any requested documents, the basis and nature of the privilege should be identified, and the following information is to be provided with respect to any objection based on privilege:

- a. The title and type of document;
- b. The author and date of the document;
- c. General subject matter of the document; and

- d. The name and address of the present custodian of the document.

S. To the extent any document(s) sought herein was, but is no longer your control or no longer exists, state for each document whether such document: (a) is missing or lost; (b) has been destroyed; (c) has been transferred, or delivered to a third party voluntarily or involuntarily, by said party for others, or (d) has been otherwise disposed of and, in each instance, explain by way of sworn affidavit the circumstances surrounding and authorization for such disposition thereof, the date or approximate date thereof, the contents of said document, and the person who authorized the transfer, destruction or other disposition of said document. Documents prepared prior to, but which relate or refer to, the time period covered by this document request, are to be identified.

T. In responding to this document request, you shall furnish all documents available to you, wherever located, including documents in possession of your attorneys, investigators, and all persons acting on your behalf. If you cannot respond to this document request in full after exercising due diligence to secure the documents requested, you shall so state and respond to the extent possible, specifying the nature of the inability to respond to the remainder and providing documents that you possesses concerning the portions not responded to.

U. Questions regarding the interpretation of these document requests should be resolved in favor of the broadest possible construction.

- V. Date of marriage shall be defined as [DATE OF MARRIAGE].

W. The document requests that follow are to be continuing, and you are requested to provide, by way of supplementary responses thereto, such additional documents as you or any persons acting on your behalf may hereafter obtain that will augment, clarify or otherwise modify the response now given to these document requests. Such supplementary responses are to be filed and serviced upon Plaintiff's counsel within twenty (20) days after the receipt of such documents.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE: THAT IN THE EVENT OF YOUR FAILURE TO PRODUCE ANY OF THE AFORESAID DOCUMENTS, WE SHALL REQUEST THAT THE COURT DO ONE OR MORE OF THE FOLLOWING:

1. Order that the issues to which the information is relevant shall be deemed resolved for purposes of the action in accordance with the claims of our client; and
2. Prohibit you from supporting or opposing any of the claims or defenses of our client; and
3. Prohibit you from producing in evidence designated things or items or testimony.

4. Prohibit you from using certain witnesses; and
5. Striking out pleadings or parts thereof; and
6. Staying further proceedings until such documents or evidence is produced; and
7. Rendering a judgment by default against you; and
8. Taking such further action and imposing such further penalties as permitted by law, including imposing costs and/or fines as appropriate.

Dimopoulos Law Firm P.C. expressly reserves the right to secure further document production from the witness predicated upon review of documents produced, testimony proffered, and exhibits marked at the witness' deposition and for current documentation.
